Fatal Shooting at San Francisco—Two Convicts Escape From the Nevada Penitentiary.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

OVER POLITICS.

Lawrence Roach Shot and Killed by James J. Allen.

Fatal Shooting at San Francisco.
SAN FRANCISCO, October 25th.—Shortly before

10 o'clock this evening a saloon-keeper named Roach, who was known as a ward politician, became engaged in a quarrel with a man named Allen, at Fourth and Tehama streets. Allen drew a revolver and fired at Roach, inflicting a wound from which the latter died in a few minutes. Allen is under arrest.

LATER—Lawrence Roach, a Republican, was shot and instantly killed by James J. Allen, a Democrat, this evening on Fourth, near Tehama.

The killing was the result of politics. Allen caused a number of voters to be cited to appear before the Election Commissioners, and when Roach met him to-night he was accused by Roach of being an informer.

All says that Roach attacked him with a knife, and he then drew a pistol and fired two shots, one entering the brain and the other the breast. The only weapons found on Roach was a small pocket-knife.

HORTICULTURISTS.

Fruit-growers to be held—

Santa Cruz.—Just three weeks from to-day representative fruit-growers from all parts of the State will meet at Santa Cruz and talk things over. This semi-annual Convention is called by the State Board of Horticulture. It promises to be one of the most successful gatherings of the kind ever held. It will be the fourteenth Convention called by the State Board. The last one was held in Los Angeles in March. A year ago the growers met

...this year there is every reason for the horticulturalists to feel nappy, for the harvest and vintage have been - all they could ask, and the outlook is as bright as the most sanguine could desire.

The Convention programme is not yet formulated, although many of those from whom essays are expected are busy getting their ideas upon paper. Among others J. H. Hale, the Connecticut horticulturalist, who is here now collecting fruit-growing facts for the Census Bureau, will make an address. He is full of progressive ideas, gained from New England experience and his suggestions will doubtless be of interest and value. The railroad and steamship lines will, as usual, grant special rates to all who attend the meeting, and the hotel managers of the Seaside City have promised to scale their prices to an economical fruit-producer's standard. Altogether, Secretary Leong of the State Board feels confident the assembly will be one of pleasure and profit. The local Board of Trade has taken the matter of preparations in hand and assures a warm greeting to all fruit-growers who may attend.

GAINED THE R. LIBERTY.

Two Convicts Escape From the Penitentiary at Carson.

CARSON (Nev.), October 25th. — George W. Lewis and August Richards worked their way through the walls of the State Prison Monday night and escaped.

Lewis procured the tools from the blacksmith shop, he being the boss, and drilled his way through the bars on the iron grating, with the assistance of Richards, and from there through the stone wall in the corridor of the second story in the main prison, dropping down on a shed roof below and fleeing across the stone quarry.

A posse of men are on the track of the convicts, who appear to have taken a direct route to California.

Injured in an Elevator Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 28th.—Robert Starr, manager of the tobacco and cigar department of E. J. & Sanderson, California street, near Duval, was dangerously, if not fatally hurt in an elevator accident this afternoon. He had gone up a few feet in the elevator when a door fell three stories down the shaft and struck him on the head. The door was used for closing the shaft when the elevator was not in use. It weighed about sixty pounds, and it was the sharp edge that struck Starr. It knocked a hole in his skull. The injured man was attended by Dr. R. Beverly Cole, who states that there is a hope of his recovery.

Girl Asphyxiated.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 28th.—Annie Young, 17 years of age, and a native of California, was found dead in her bed at a notorious lodging-house on Third street this afternoon. The gas jet was open and the deadly fluid filled the room. Annie, who worked in a pickle factory, was, despite her youth, a confirmed inebriate. The last seen of her alive she was drunk and had just returned from a saloon with a can of beer. The gas fixture is one of the sort that turns completely around. It is believed by the coroner that she, while in an intoxicated con-

Street Fight at Chico. CHICO, October 28th.—Z on Moore, a member of the City Council, attempted to shoot Jim Chubeck on the public streets last night. Chubeck accused Moore of circulating stories criminalizing himself and a married woman of this city. Chubeck struck Moore several times, when the Councilman drew his gun and snapped it several times. It refused to explode, though every chamber was loaded. An officer separated the combatants and both were arrested. The affair caused considerable excitement. The friends of both parties say it is not settled yet.

National Convention of Trainmen.

LOS ANGELES, October 25th.—The National Convention of Trainmen to-day elected T. T. Slatery Second Vice Grand Master. George Newman, of Missoula, Mont., was elected Third Vice Grand Master. The plan for federation and a Supreme Council, as devised by the representatives of the federal organizations in June, 1888, was unanimously approved, and the representatives to the last meeting of the Supreme Council, consisting of S. E. Wilkinson, Grand Master; and W. H. Sheehan, Grand Secretary and Treasurer, were re-elected.

Good Flow of Artesian Water.

WHEATLAND, October 28th.—A flow of artesian water has been struck on the Richley place, about one mile and a quarter west of Sheridan, in Placer county. At a depth of fifty-five feet, while boring with a five inch auger, a vein was struck and water came to the surface with a 20-h. The well will flow in the neighborhood of 20,000 gallons per day. Farmers are rejoicing, as the water is essential to successful agriculture on the uplands. It is expected a series of experimental wells will be drilled soon.

Rich Vein of Quartz.

VICTORIA (B. C.), October 25th.—Captain Carroll, who is now in the city, reports that the principal Alaskan news he brings is the discovery of a rich quartz vein at Burner's bay, in the direction of the Chilcat district. John Bernhart has bought the claim and will at once de-

It is reported here to day that John Doyle of Nainaimo cut his throat in that city last night and died from the effects.

In Parts Unknown.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 28th.—Henry Contant, proprietor of the Montreal Market, has disappeared, and, it is stated, leaves a number of creditors, in addition to the woman who passed as his wife, and who furnished him with the money to start his business. It is stated that the arrival of Contant's real wife and three children from Canada was the cause of his departure. He took about $1,000 cash with him.

A Murderer Held to Answer.

PRESCOTT (A. T.), October 28th.—The preliminary examination of John Chart, charged with the assassination of George Johnson last week, closed to-day, resulting in his being held without bonds to appear before the Grand Jury. The murder was one of the most cold-blooded ever committed in the Territory, and is universally condemned.

SAFETY
SAN DIEGO, October 28th.—The citizens this evening appointed a committee to confer with the Government representatives who were recently appointed to select a site on the Pacific coast for a high-grade armor plant, and present to them inducements for the erection of said institution in San Diego, and the committee will leave for the East in a few days.

Collision in a Fog.
SEATTLE, October 28th.—The steamer Premier, which arrived here tonight, collided with the tug, Don, off Marrowstone Head

Monday night. The Oakland was at anchor, loaded with lumber for sea. The Premier was on her way to Seattle. The Premier was damaged $500 and the Oakland half that amount.

Joseph Morgan at Large.

BOISE CITY (Idaho), October 28th.—Joseph Morgan has escaped from the State Penitentiary. He was at breakfast this morning. At dinner he was missing. Morgan was sentenced last July to a seven years' term for an attempt to murder Charles Barrett, of Boise county.

Match-Race Made.
SAN FRANCISCO, October 25th.—The owner o
Almont Patchen to-day deposited $1,000 with the Chronicle to bind a match-race between Al mont Patchen and Cricker. The race is to be mille heats, best three in five, to be contested either on the San Francisco or San Jose track.

Death from Heart Disease
CHICO, October 28th.—A stranger, while alight ing from the Oregon express train this morn ing, fell dead. His name was afterward ascertained as being Frank Lenna, an old-time miner at Cherokee. Heart disease was the cause of death.

A FEW QUESTIONS—ASSAULTS UPON CANDIDATES.

The opposition of the "Independents" to the Republican ticket is the most pronounced in assaults upon the nominees for Sheriff, District Attorney and County Clerk.

Now let voters who have in the slightest degree been impressed by the vague and rambling generalizations of the literary bureau of the Independents take up the personnel of the Republican ticket, and say wherein the candidates are unworthy.

To confine ourselves at this time to the nominees who appear to be pivotal for the assaults of the influence referred to, let us ask voters wherein Sheriff McMullen has failed as an official? Boy and man, he has lived the greatest part of a useful lifetime in Sacramento county. There is not a lazy fiber in his physical organization; not a lazy suggestion in his mental make-up. Energy, push, courage, honesty, fair and square dealing with all men, have given him a standing among his fellow-citizens that is simply unimpeachable.

Mr. McMullen has made a good Sheriff; the affairs of his office have been administered with strict integrity, promptness, cleanliness and impartiality. Who is there who can lift his hand to him, and point to any misdeed or maladministration in his office? Where is the man who is prepared to say that Mr. McMullen has been at fault in any of his official duties? He has never served in his tribunals; that he is efficient, intelligent, energetic and courteous. Is not the opposition to young Mr. Rhoads due more to the desire to favor the ambition of Mr. Hamilton than to punish the Republican nominee for relationship to a politician who was prominent in his opposition to Mr. Rhoads' nomination, because he feared that the cry would be raised that has been, that the young gentleman was under his guidance?

Now, no fact is better established than this, that the Republican nominee is a spirited and independent man, dominated by no one; a man who with laudable ambition to fill a responsible station made his fight and won his nomination open-handed, fairly, and in way that inspired the respect and won the applause of the Convention.

As to the District Attorney, what is the matter with R. D. Ryan? Are young men to be abused throughout on the ticket? Is Mr. Ryan to be knifed because he is a youth and representative character? He has served the people well as their representative in the Legislature, being elected by such a majority as is rarely given. He has been repeatedly called to discharge responsible trusts in legislative and other deliberative bodies because of his abilities. His record is clean, his life without blemish, his habits studious, his patience, energy and faithfulness undiminished. He has been at the bar many years, he has a broad measure of success and commands the esteem and respect of the members of his profession. Why, then, should Mr. Ryan be picked out for special assault? In what respect is he objectionable? Wherein is he incompetent? In what does he lack independence, character and perfect freedom?

So on we might go down the list, and name by name take up the Republican candidates on the county ticket and challenge the opposition to point out specifically reasons of substantial merit why they should be set aside and Democrats and hybrids chosen in their places.

The mean suspicions of a few men, conjured from a morbid fancy—and prompted by a desire to rule—generalized and sweeping in charge, should not be permitted to sway voters. There is a purpose behind these assaults that is unworthy and vulgar; a selfishness that is mean and an ambition that is dangerous to the best interests of the country.

The Democratic party has not elected a man in very many years in Sacramento county without the aid of Republican votes. It cannot do so now; its only hope is to divide Republicans, to foment discord and to draw off enough Republican support to amalgamate with the forlorn hope of Democracy, and thus put a few of its men at the public test. The better to compass this end, the county Democrats contend to here and there a so-called "Independent" being named to mask their designs and cloak the scheme to divide Republican strength. The sincere men drawn into the movement are made dupes to this scheme.

The trick is an old one, it has been played over and over again, but never with more shameless effrontery and consummate cunning than in this campaign. Will Republicans be again deceived? Will Republicans submit to being angled off on a false scent, under the specious cry of reform?

In what way, for instance, will Mr. Stanley conserve honest administration of the Sheriff's office more than Mr. McMullen? In what manner will he discharge duty that will rank higher or be more deserving of commendation than duty done by George C. McMullen?

How will Mr. Hamilton contribute to reforms in the Clerk's office or the county or city by contesting with the candidate of the party under which he has won all the honors and enjoyed all the official stations he has held these many years? Will he mortgaging the Clerk's office to W. B. Hamilton forward the interests of Sacramento county, when it is notorious that he has for almost a decade and a half been a high priest of all the Republican administrations that have occupied the county Court-house, and hence a party to every possible error that the cunning of Democrats and the duplicity of the engineers of the Independents can now suggest, as chargeable to the party?

How can Judge Holl better serve the interests of the people as a prosecutor of criminals and an adviser of the Superior than F. D. Ryan? What claim has the Judge upon the votes of either Republicans or Democrats? He is a kindly gentleman, a worthy citizen and a good lawyer, as is also Mr. Ryan. But the latter has not gone off after false gods, nor declared his enmity to the Republican party. Judge Holl is of no political household, but shows antipathy upon both the Republican and Democratic organizations.

Judge Holl has, like Mr. Ryan, the virtue of having decided opinions, but Mr. Stanley, the make-shift candidate for Sheriff, has not even this saving grace. He is of the class of men well styled "indifferents," nominally Republican, inactive in the duty of the citizen to be a living, moving factor in political life, but coming to the surface only as an aspirant for office by the boost given him by the Democratic schemers of Sacramento county, a group, by the way, of shrewd citizens, whom we admire for their audacity, their consummate cunning, and the political timbrel-rigging they manage to play upon so-called Independents.

CHILDREN POLITICS.

The campaign just closing will be remembered in history as the campaign without an issue. The criminal extravagance of the last Legislature has been repudiated by both parties. Both stand pointing to the other with accusing finger, both willing to prove an alibi if that were possible.

It was scarcely to be expected that the campaign would close without the interpolation of the ever dying but ever-living Chinese question. Upon occasion both parties are willing to declare that each is to be credited with the extermination of the Chinese race. In ancient times, the Chinese question was living and vital. It subserved an excellent purpose. It was a matter about which everybody could talk. The evil of unrestricted Chinese immigration was so patent that the lowest capacity could denounce it with the appearance of intelligence.

Some years ago the Republican candidate for Governor owned a mine, in the operation of which it was necessary to employ somebody. The mine was worked at first with white men and subsequently with Chinese labor. We have not the slightest doubt but that Chinese were employed about that mine. We have as little doubt that every candidate on the Democratic ticket has at some time hired Chinese, and that likewise every candidate on the Republican ticket has at some time been an employer of Chinamen. Thousands, even tens of thousands, were imported to construct and to assist in operating the railroads of this State, and many of them are now employed by the railroad companies. Thousands of Chinese are employed in fruit picking and fruit packing. Thousands are employed in the grain fields of the State. The labor of the State is sparse, and industrial enterprise must avail itself of whatever labor is within reach. Whoever, therefore, has been enterprising enough to own a farm, have stock in a railroad, assist in the construction of a railroad, plant an orchard, work a mine, dig a ditch or run a farm, has at some time been obliged to avail himself of Chinese labor.

If all the people who have employed Chinese, or would employ them if they needed their assistance, were to vote for either of the candidates for Governor now before the public, he would have a hundred thousand majority. If there is a voter in California who never had any washing done at a Chinese laundry, never bought vegetables from a Chinese garden, never ate fruit picked or packed by a Chinaman, never wore a pair of shoes or boots made by a Chinaman, we would be pleased to receive his name and address, with an oath or an affirmation that he has done none of these things, accompanied at the same time by an oath or affirmation of twelve responsible citizens that they would believe him under oath. We would likewise be pleased with the address of a merchant in Sacramento or San Francisco who has never at any time purchased any article of Chinese manufacture for sale. We would like to know the establishment in Sacramento or San Francisco that never at any time had any stock in trade made by Chinese, with the name and address of the person claiming to have been entirely free from all complicity with Chinese labor. We would like also the oath of twelve responsible citizens as to the credibility of the affiant in the aforesaid case.

It was a boyish proceeding to unearth the letter of Colonel Markham, and it was equally childish to deny its authenticity. The entire hue and cry raised concerning this letter, whether it is genuine or fraudulent, as well as the denial of its authenticity and the frantic efforts to defend the Republican candidate from the charge, all together proceed upon the plane of insincerity and hypocrisy, pitiful and contemptible.

ONE of the most notable features of the campaign is the almost universal commendation by the press of the State of E. P. Colgan, the Republican candidate for Controller. He seems to be about the most popular man upon any ticket.

An Early Morning Blaze.

At twenty minutes past 1 this morning an alarm of fire was turned in from box 32. The fire originated in the rear of the periodical store kept by Henry Ford, near the corner of Sixth and K streets, and had gained considerable headway when discovered.

The entire contents of the store were destroyed and considerable damage was done to the upstairs portion of the building, which was occupied principally by offices. The drug store of T. Phillips, adjoining, received some damage from water and broken windows.

The property is owned by Mrs. Cornelia Joseph, and is fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Accidentally Killed.

HERNIM, October 28th.—A young man named while deer hunting with a companion, accidentally killed himself with a rifle about ten miles down the coast from here on Sunday. While climbing over rocks the hammer of the gun is supposed to have caught and the rifle was discharged. When found he was dead and his clothing on fire. The coroner and jury returned last night, but only a portion of them were able to reach the spot, which is very inaccessible. A party is now trying to bring the body out. Well known to the people here, where he is said to have resided.

A Boon for Travelers.

The traveler who guards against sudden attacks of cold, headache, indigestion, dizziness, etc., ailments not infrequently brought on by changes of climate and water, is the sensible, far-seeing man. Always have handy in your valise or trunk a box of Allcock's Porens Plasters. Worn on the pit of the stomach they will strengthen the digestive organs that you can eat almost anything, and travel without fear of taking cold.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

Allcock's Corn and Bunion Shields effect quick and certain relief.

As a family medicine Ayer's Pills excel all others. They are suited to every age and, being sugar-coated, are easy to take. Though searching and thorough in effect, they are mild and pleasant in action, and their use is attended with no injurious results.

Some Incidents Said to Have Been Concealed Concerning the Stanley African Expedition.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

BARTHOLOMEW'S DEATH.

Lieutenant Troup Says Some Incidents Have Been Concealed.

Boston, October 28th.—Lieutenant Troup, one of Stanley's lieutenants with the expedition, rear guard under Major Bartholome, is visiting his wife's relatives in Cambridge. A reporter secured from Troup an explanation of Stanley's charges. "Stanley," he said, "has seen fit to charge against those whom he believed to be in charge of a forlorn hope, and I will gladly make anything he says true. I do not remember that Bartholome was a quick-tempered, nervous man, who had no control over himself, and who, unfortunately, was a wrong man to be placed in control of the natives, no matter how large a force he might be. The Major hated the natives in the first place, and he made no effort to conceal his dislike for them. He never had any experience in the jungle and did not know how to manage the natives. Stanley knew him intimately and knew just the kind of a man he was. If a wrong has been done, mind you, I don't say that Stanley's instructions have any foundation; but if there has been any blunder, Stanley is responsible for it, in placing such a man in control of the guard.

"As I was saying, Bartholome was not temperate; he had very sexist ideas as to the military duty of the native soldiers under him. He was a martinet, and exacted from the native soldiers the same discipline that would have been exacted from the flower of the English army. Of course such treatment would not do with the natives who had been unaccustomed to restraint, and there were frequent rebellions, which called for disciplinary measures. But I will not say that Stanley's instructions have any foundation; but if there has been any blunder, Stanley is responsible for it, in placing such a man in control of the guard.

NATIVES MASSACRED.

Six Hundred Men Fall Before French Troops in Senegal.

LONDON, October 28th.—News has reached here of a fight between French troops and natives in Senegal. Amadou resolved to make supreme efforts to capture the post of Koniakari. It had been seized by Colonel Richelieu last June, and had been left under the command of Lieutenant Valentin. A sub-Lieutenant commanding four Senegalese and one of whom were French, and two European non-commissioned officers and an antillean, with a detachment of 100 men. On September 25th the defenders of Koniakari saw the besiegers advancing in deep columns, many of them carrying ladders to be used in the attack. All the black soldiers, though determined by the artillery fire on the blockhouse at the first sound of the war drum. They carried their ladders to within fifty yards of the walls, despite a tremendous fire from the besiegers. Shouting their wild war cries, many of them succeeded in placing their ladders against the foot of the wall, but a well-directed fire of canister musketry and shrapnel caused them to falter, then scatter and die in the brush. The fight had begun at 6 a. m. At 5 o'clock a heavy rain fell, a real flood. The Toucouleurs took advantage of it to pick up arms and ammunition lying about. At 10 o'clock, twenty-three being confined in a stockade, and it is estimated that the loss of the assailants reached 600 men at least. The French had only two fatalities slightly wounded by 11 a. m., while the army of Amadou had disappeared.

BALFOUR IN IRELAND.

He Expresses Sorrow at the Failure of the Potato Crop.

DUBLIN, October 28th.—Balfour is now in Westport. It is reported that he is deeply impressed with the scenes of general wretchedness of the peasants and the prospects of famine. Balfour received an ovation on landing at Achill. He said he was glad to meet the people and expressed sorrow for the failure of the potato crop. He was glad he had been able to sanction the construction of the railway which would give them relief. A number of peasants escorted Balfour to the various fishing stations and after dark escorted him over the mountains. Balfour promised to finish the bridge between the two points of Ireland, and to defray the expenses out of his own pocket. The peasants cheered him and expressed gratitude. On the road back to Westport a triumphal arch was erected at Mullagh. Balfour was cheered by knots of people at various points. One of the local poets at Westport said Balfour was one of the greatest benefactors Ireland ever had, and they looked to him to bring peace and prosperity to the country. At Westport Balfour received a deputation of citizens, headed by a priest, and conferred at length as to the best method of providing for the coming distress.

TIRED OF SERFDOM.

The Peasants in Southern Russia Defy the Federal Troops.

LONDON, October 28th.—The Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent says: The Secretary of the Interior has received a telegram containing alarming accounts of peasant disorders in the Kharkov and Yekaterinobsk districts, southern Russia. Nine thousand peasants, armed with pitchforks and other weapons, are now gathered against the peasants in the Bogodukhov district, who refused to obey their leaders, and declare they will not relax their action, preferring instead to die fighting. The peasants are armed with pitchforks, and are now attacking and pillaging land-owners' residences. They have burned 5,000 acres of forest on the river Semara, and have destroyed immense quantities of corn in the district. The Minister of the Interior has telegraphed to the authorities in that part of the empire abolishing all peasants' rights in the district districts.

Wedding at the Parisian Capital.

PARIS, October 28th.—The religious marriage of Mlle. Mohrenheim, daughter of Baron Mohrenheim, Russian Ambassador to France, to Lieutenant Desce, took place today, and was attended by Madame Carnot, the President and all the Emperors in Paris. A crowd gathered outside the church, and as the bridal party came out they were greeted with cries of "Long live Russia!" "Long live France!"

Hanged for an Excess of Zeal.

BREITENBURG, October 28th.—While the Liberals and Conservatives were celebrating with fireworks over the result of the elections, the commander of the Federal troops ordered them to disperse. The people resisted, and they were shot and burnt to death. The commander was wounded on both sides. The commander died of an excess of zeal.

Comte de Paris in Quebec.

QUEBEC, October 28th.—This morning the Count of Paris, Duke of Orleans and their suite visited the Ursuline Convent and the Cathedral. The visitors were cordially received by Cardinal Archbishop Taschereau, who was attended by several dignitaries of the church. The citizens gave a banquet to the visitors this evening.

Free Trade.

EDINBURGH, October 28th.—Gladstone, in an address to workingmen, extolled free trade. He said the results of the last year's legislation had been that trade had multiplied fivefold, population doubled, and the material, social and political condition of the country improved.

Two Jaunty Reefers.

While Fashion allows a large range of choice in jackets, it is clear that the most popular thing is the Reefer, with its loose front and chic appearance. Two of our specialties—the latest in the market—are

A NAVY BLUE REEFER of very fine beaver, with a vest front of solid curled astrakhan. The collar is broad, with pointed lapels, while the sleeves have puffed shoulders. The Jacket is edged all around with astrakhan. Price, $18.

A RUSSET BROWN BEAVER REEFER, with broad embroidered velvet collar which merges into a fly front that extends the entire length. It has lapped seams—now so popular; coat sleeves and puffed shoulder. For something distinctively stylish, this cannot be equalled in the city. Price, $18.

A FRUIT FARM

In Newcastle Fruit Belt, in the Light Tract Colony, four miles from Newcastle, Penryn and Loomis.

THE TRACT ORIGINALLY CONTAINED 475 acres, which has been subdivided into 20 acre lots. Some have been sold and improved. It is all cleared of underbrush; corn grows without irrigation. If required, water in abundance can be secured, as water ditch runs through the place. The soil is deep, rich and easily cultivated.

We claim this to be one of the most desirable places in Central California.

TERMS—One-third cash, balance in five annual installments, with interest at 7 per cent, purchaser paying taxes.

We will accompany anyone wishing to view the land.

Also, Two Fine Pieces of Land.

FIRST—160 acres, 3 miles from Loomis; 5 acres orchard, 3 acres vineyard, 6 acres alfalfa; fenced and irrigated; good house and barn. PRICE—$6,400. TERMS—$500 cash, balance five years time, interest 7 per cent, purchaser paying tax.

SECOND—80 acres near the above place, and only 2 1/2 miles from Rocklin; all fenced; 22 acres orchard and vineyard. PRICE—$5,000. TERMS same as above.

These are bargains and should be looked into at once.

We have also several small tracts near railroad station.

Send for Catalogue.
